The Mayflower Compact was signed on November 11, 1620 aboard the ship of the same name: the Mayflower Compact. The Mayflower Compact was the first government document written in the United States. See the de facto file below for more information on the Mayflower Compact or download our package complete with work sheets to be used inside the classroom or domestic environment as an alternative. The Mayflower was the ship that transported the first pilgrims from England to the New World (North America). There were about 130 people aboard the Mayflower when he sailed for North America and despite a very difficult journey, most of the crew survived. It is believed that some pilgrims tried to escape from the religious persecution of King James of England. These pilgrims were known as "separatists". The other pilgrims aboard the ship were merchants and adventurers who were known as "Stangieri".

The pilgrims called their new settlement "New Plymouth" after where they had sailed in England. The city is called Plymouth. When the pilgrims still left Cape Cod, they wrote the Mayflower Compact, a government document that aims to establish a legal order. The Mayflower Compact was needed because the separatists and foreigners aboard the ship could not agree on the settlement rules. The Mayflower Compact acted as an agreement between all pilgrims who would try to live together harmoniously to survive. The Mayflower Compact was signed on board the Mayflower ship. 41 passengers of the ship signed the Mayflower Compact. All the people who signed the Mayflower Compact were males. Women and they were not allowed to sign the Compact.
